The current observance of "National Library Week" brought extra activity to the Salem Public Library, although the institution most always is well-patronized by book lovers and persons doing research work. Book circulation at the Salem library is at an all-time high.

Claims Yank Ships Escorted Invaders

By The Associated Press

The Cuban radio charged today the rebel invaders — beaten on Cuba's beaches — were trained by U. S. officers in Guatemala. The broadcast said the attackers were ferried to the beachhead in "North American military transports" escorted by "Yankee destroyers."

The broadcast said the story was told by prisoners captured on the beach. Among them is the

U.S. Newsmen In Cuba Freed; Castro 'Fine'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—All American newsmen in Havana have been freed and are with Fidel Castro in Matanzas Province, according to a Cuban who answered the telephone in The Associated Press Havana office today.

The Cuban, who identified himself as Alberto Lanier, an AP employee in Havana, said Castro "is fine."

There has been no word from any American newsmen on the AP staff in Cuba.

Earlier indirect reports indicated that Castro might have been injured in the invasion.

Exile leaders in New York said a son of Miro Cardona was in the landing.

The insurgent "army of liberation" answered this charge of U. S. intervention by declaring

Citizens to Be Asked Questions

Junior Chamber Plans Survey of Community

Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce will begin a systematic, door-to-door canvass of city homes next week, endeavoring to gather information for a future comprehensive survey of the community's assets and possible weaknesses.

The canvass will be the initial part of the three-phase project known as "Community Development." The second phase, to be completed following the canvass, will entail a comprehensive analysis of the information obtained from the survey combined with a detailed inventory of the city's physical resources.

The third segment of the plan will be a positive effort by the Jaycees to acquaint local citizens with facts and public opinions of strong and weak areas.

The U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce founded the project in 1957. Since that time it has grown into a world-wide program, with sanction by the Junior Chamber International. American Motors became a co-sponsor of the program in 1959, and now provides yearly cash grants to local chapters who do outstanding work with individual projects.

City Development Is Goal

Over 2,000 Jaycees chapters have used variations of the project to assist in the development of their communities. Locally, the project is being headed by Richard Coburn, with Thomas Coe, Robert Conroy, Ford Joseph Jr. and C. F. Tomlinson acting as a steering committee.

The form to be filled, which will take about 20 minutes to complete, will consist of approximately 80

3 Antigambling Bills Passed By Ohio House

Senate Measure Would License TV, Radio Repairmen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Back in 1953, it was the slot machine which was outlawed in Ohio. Today, scarcely a single Ohio youngster knows what one looks like.

Today it is horsebooks, numbers slips and spot cards on athletic events. Perhaps the next generation won't know about them, either.

The legislature is in the process of making current gambling operations felonies on the second offense. The House passed three antigambling bills Thursday at the end of the 16th legislative work week and sent them to the Senate.

Penalties Increased

Operators of such schemes of chance as numbers, horsebooks and sports pools would, under terms of the bills, be subject to felony convictions on the first offense. For the underlings in such operations, the first penalty would be a $500 fine and six months in jail. Later penalties would be raised to a maximum $1,000 fine and three years in prison.

While the gambling bills were going through the House with only minor dissent, the Senate was passing, without a vote to spare, a bill to regulate servicing of home radio and television equipment by setting up a state board to examine and license electronic technicians. Because of the narrow victory in the Senate, the bill's prospects in the House are considered dim.

Would Change Procedure

Without dissent, the Senate passed and sent to the House a bill to change the procedure, adopted in 1959, for choosing village councilmen. Under the 1959 law, two candidates for a village council would be elected this year to two-year terms and four others to four-year terms.

The measure proposed by former Senate minority leader Joseph W. Bartunek, D-Cuyahoga, provides for election of six members of each village council this year. The three receiving the highest number of votes would receive four-year terms and the next three would get two-year terms.

In another action, the Senate passed and sent to the House by unanimous vote an emergency measure transferring administration of the state subsidy to county, district or municipal tuberculosis hospitals from the state auditor to the Ohio Health Department.

The Senate also passed without dissent a House-approved bill to provide for the disposition of funds when a conservancy district is dissolved. The immediate aim of the bill is to allow the old 17-

Compromise Reached

Souvanna Says Laos Cease-Fire Is Near

MOSCOW (AP) — Neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma of Laos said today he will reach Laos April 25 or 26, "which will coincide with the start of the cease-fire" in his country.

It was the first time a date had been put on a possible cease-fire in embattled Laos.

An appeal for the two warring factions in the Southeast Asian kingdom to lay down their arms is expected to be issued by Britain and the Soviet Union within 48 hours.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko earlier told diplomats East and West had reached a compromise on the sequence of cease-fire and peace conference which made it possible to publish a truce appeal.

British Ambassador Sir Frank Roberts had been saying he expected agreement "very soon."

Roberts conferred for 65 minutes with Deputy Soviet Foreign Minister Georgi Pushkin and then told newsmen the anticipated British-Soviet appeal for a truce between Western-backed forces of Premier Boun Oum and the pro-Communist Pathet Lao probably would not be issued today.

"We will remain optimistic," Roberts said. He declined to say what points remained in dispute.

British officials in London reported Thursday night that the Soviets had agreed in principle to the British demand for a cease-fire before an international conference to unify and neutralize the war-divided Southeast Asian kingdom.

The delay possibly could be due to the arrival in Moscow Thursday of the leader of the Pathet Lao, Prince Souphanouvong.

Souphanouvong's half-brother and sometime political adversary, neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, arrived in Moscow last Sunday to confer with Soviet leaders.

Souvanna Phouma leaves for Peiping Saturday, continuing a tour of Asian and European capitals to push his proposal for a

Avoids Cuban Issue at News Confab Today

President Warned Thursday of U.S. Action If Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said today the United States may lag behind Russia in space for the next 10 years but is bending every effort to become first to the moon.

The President at his news conference studiously avoided questions about Cuba and the speech he made Thursday saying the United States would not hesitate to act alone against communism in this hemisphere if necessary to protect its own security.

And he said he has no new information on a cease-fire in Laos.

But on the general subject of Communist tyranny he declared, "It is a matter to which we must address all our energy and all our attention."

Major Problem for Decade

He described this as a major problem for a decade ahead.

Kennedy said his administration would carefully consider venturing into new space projects to determine "whether a real success can be achieved or whether we are so far behind now in this particular race we are going to be second in this decade."

Kennedy said the Saturn vehicle, the Nova and Rover projects are being speeded up with additional funds and that the government will spend about $2 billion on space next year.

But he said the Saturn would not get us to the moon and declared: "We have to consider whether there is any program now regardless of its cost which offers us hopes of being pioneers in a project."

Saturn is the U.S. project of building a more powerful rocket. Nova contemplates a cluster of Saturn rockets. Rover is a project to build a nuclear rocket.

This was the President's 10th news conference and 402 newsmen turned out. It was a closed meeting—taped for later broadcast or telecast.

No Question On Cuba

The President announced at the outset that he would stand on his speech Thursday regarding Cuba and would accept no questions on that explosive subject.

In the speech he opened the possibility that if Communist penetration in Cuba became a threat to the security of the United States he would be prepared to order direct intervention even without the cooperation and agreement of the allied nations of this hemisphere.

A few hours after the President spoke the White House announced that he had conferred for 75 minutes in late afternoon with former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent in the presidential campaign last year. The announcement said he wanted to bring Nixon up to date on Cuba and other problems, including the crisis in Laos.

Indicating the bipartisan aim of the Kennedy move, White House

Nose Counting Isn't Enough

The Clevelanders who are pushing for re-apportionment of the Ohio General Assembly at a strict population basis have an obvious axe to grind. The rough spot in their grindstone is that they are trying to hinge the delicate balance of power in the legislative process on census statistics.

No one questions that a Cuyahoga County representative speaks through his legislative voice for a lot more people than a Warren County representative does. No one questions that this creates inequities in the laws that govern Ohioans.

What is questionable is that the over-all representative picture as it stands in the Clevelanders' paint it, or that mere nose-counting would improve it if it were that bad.

FOR ONE THING, the Ohio system of granting extra representation for extra fractions of population makes us about as modern as any of our sister states in distributing legislative seats. Sometimes ridiculed as an odd-ball way of doing things, the 1851 provision nevertheless gives metropolitan areas extra seats. Cuyahoga County alone has more than 10 per cent of the 336 seats in the House.

A second point to consider is that Ohio as a whole is not sharply divided among rural and urban areas. There are eight cities with more than 100,000 people each, and several of those are pushing farther and farther beyond the boundaries of their immediate counties.

With our dense population statewide, it is increasingly difficult to find a county that considers itself strictly rural in complexion or attitude. This fact is mandated in the legislature by the support of some so-called "rural" legislators for metropolitan federation amendments and the opposition of some so-called "city" legislators to relaxed annexation laws.

A further effect of this phenomenon is evidenced in the Senate, which is heavily weighted in favor of the cities but which frequently, as in this session, provides the most conservative opposition to legislation favored by urban areas.

STILL ANOTHER consideration is what the net effect on all Ohio would be if the big cities were able to obtain whatever they wanted from the legislature through sheer weight of votes based on counted noses.

How long, for instance, would Ohio be able to maintain its attraction for industry if big management or big labor were able to push through every unemployment or workmen's compensation bill it desired without compromise?

Compromise between opposing viewpoints is the essence of representative government. The legislature is the body through which compromise is reached. It is often a slow, up-of-war process because that is what it was intended to be in matters of high controversy between extreme opponents.

It would be as sensible to abolish the General Assembly as to give absolute control of it to any of several extreme interests which are now represented but cannot dictate.

This Could Be the Start

The leadership of unions with a million members in metropolitan New York may get credit some day for starting an independent political party. Fifteen of the leadership group have been working on a study of the possibilities.

Their immediate goal is a political organization to work in New York City's municipal election this year. But no imagination is needed to see how their ultimate goal might be a political organization to work in New York state elections and ultimately in national elections.

This possibility had been discounted for decades — and perhaps it will be discounted now. But if so, the reason will not be the same one given before.

The reason used to be that each major political party had a place in it for unions' participation in partisan politics. As Samuel Gompers preached when he was alive, organized labor should play off one party against the other. It should work both sides of the street, rewarding its friends wherever it found them and punishing its enemies likewise. Gompers thought organized labor should work inside both parties in the two-party system.

That is not a valid reason now. It is not going to be valid in the foreseeable future.

ORGANIZED LABOR leadership is not bipartisan. With significantly few exceptions, labor leadership is aligned with the Democratic party in big cities and industrial states. And in places where it is not identified with the Democratic party, it is not identified with the Republican party.

Members of labor unions may be and sometimes are, as they were in Ohio during the Robert A. Taft campaigns, bipartisan in their political division. But the leaders of organized labor have no place to go if they leave the Democratic party.

They would not be received in the Republican party. They have abused and reviled

Republicans to the degree that they wouldn't dare ask their followers to believe they never meant what they said.

This is part of their reason for restlessness in the Democratic party. They resent being made to feel as if they would have no place to go if they threatened to leave. In New York City, with its tangled web of major and minor parties, this isn't the same kind of problem it is in Cleveland, for instance. But in all urban areas there is a problem of how to keep labor leaders happy inside Democratic organizations.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN if they broke away? Who would have more to lose — the union leaders or the leaders of the Democratic party?

In the short run, the labor unionists would have the most to lose, because they would have to set up a new party, almost impossible under existing laws. But if they succeeded, the Democratic party would have more to lose, because it then would end where the Liberal party ended in England—a poor third running behind the Labour party and the Conservative party.

There would be a polarization of modern points of view in politics. No longer could a Democrat be a friend of labor one place and a critic of labor elsewhere, an advocate of civil rights in the North and a segregationist in the South, a spender in New York and a budget-cutter in Paducah, an internationalist on the Atlantic Coast and an isolationist in Mississippi.

The United States Labor party, if it came into existence, would be as distinct from the Republican party and the Democratic party as the British Labour party is from other parties in England. And it is that very prospect that must give union leaders a chill when they note how British Labourites have failed in fighting among themselves as though they had ceased to be a brotherhood and become just another crowd of bickering politicians.

Members of labor unions may be and sometimes are, as they were in Ohio during the Robert A. Taft campaigns, bipartisan in their political division. But the leaders of organized labor have no place to go if they leave the Democratic party.

They would not be received in the Republican party. They have abused and reviled

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

What the Free World needs most is good advertising. What we are doing for chewing gum, toothpaste, beer, entertainment and soda the enemy is doing for moon journeys and a sort of Kremlin "Get-Their-First-Tonic."

Picking a sensational product capable of turning the world, it puts everything else in the "Car War" file, concentrates on the one goal, steals a head start on competitors, keeps its nose to the launching pad and sells itself with the ease of the man on the flying trapeze.

It is now clear the Soviets decided on this sensational product, and began to develop and market it away back when Uncle Sam was concentrating on more powerful booster devices for all the comforts of home and a pill for every dizzy spell.

Russia was hard at work with its eyes on the moon while the U.S.A. supposedly the king of advertising and smash salesmanship, was holding the lead in hi-fi records, luxury chariot, part mutual machinery, deep freeze fried chili, vacation resort motels and all-purpose slot machines.

Communism has nothing to sell but trouble, disorder, nonstop world friction, domination of small countries, prepackaged villifications, three-way Nyet capsules and Old Dr. Lenin's Veto Pills.

Uncle Sam has almost everything that makes for human happiness and peaceful living. But he doesn't get his story across with anything like the American ability to sell a ski resort, a cake mix, a salad oil, a glass of schnapps, a hair tonic, or "twenty flavors of wonderful ice cream."

He has been fiddling while the enemy burned a pathway to the planet, doing a Jack Benny act while Khrushchev & Co. put everything into an outer-space show-of-shows. Let's face it: It's later than our advertising forces think.

TAHITI IS TO GET JET PLANE tourists at the rate of a thousand a week and now has berths for liners and big yachts. After all these years of paradise, will it take all the trappings of civilization lying down?

Big accomplishment of Russian scientists was not so much that it put a man in space but put a smiling Russian in space.

President Kennedy wants to counter Russian man-in-space feat by converting salt water into fresh, as something more important to the future. Nothing is less realized by the man in the street than that there is a fresh water shortage. He finds it hard to believe that the day is coming when "How are things in outer space?" will be secondary to, "How are things in the water bucket?"

A big corporation held its annual meeting of stockholders in Carnegie Hall. The session presided by a Philharmonic Orchestra rehearsal, led by Leonard Bernstein. Well, it would always be a little comforting to get away from the news of a bad year's business. Maybe even a dividend cut would be easier to take in this famous concert hall where some of the great artists of the world had done their stuff.

Felix Wankel, German inventor, has developed an auto motor which operates on half the parts of standard car engines. The explosion acts directly on crankshaft. "Look, Mom, no valves, no pistons, no carbon!"

The President is making a drive against red tape. Shucks! Doesn't he know it's a national hobby. Not even efficiency men will give it up.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Inside John F. Kennedy's private White House office at 2:30 p.m. on Thursday April 12, the conversation between the President and his two visitors turned toward pillboxes — not medical, nor military, but millinery. With Mr. Kennedy was an old friend, the glad hatter, Victor Riesel, who wears two caps, one as president of the headgear union, the other as leader of New York's pivotal Liberal party. At the President's invitation he had come for a personal conference along with Arthur Goldberg.

Two "firsts" were set by the 45-minute personal visit. Mr. Rose was the first labor leader to be invited into the White House inner sanctum since the inauguration. Also, as they walked in they found the President more relaxed than ever anyone had seen him in that office. So relaxed, in fact, that he reached for a long cigar and lit up.

Whatever it was that the President of the U.S. wanted to discuss with the president of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers must have been important.

THE PRESIDENT was as confident as he was ebullient. Soon after Mr. Rose entered the room which he had visited so frequently during the FDR and Truman days—President Kennedy smiled, puffed on the unprecedented cigar (positively not a Havana) and said:

"Your man, A. A. Berle, is doing an excellent job here."

Mr. Berle, honorary chairman of the Liberal party, is chairman of President Kennedy's Task Force on Latin America. The talk then turned to Konrad Adenauer and the booming German economy. About then Rose said:

"Mr. President, I want to thank your wife on behalf of the millinery workers. We are very grateful to her for helping to improve the economy in our industry."

John Kennedy grinned at this reference to Jackie's penchant for pillboxes. He was delighted and added "But what about me?" Mr. Rose, Labor's own Noel Coward, replied:

"You, Mr. President, are frequently seen with hat in hand. And our people say that a hat on the head is worth two in the hand."

MR. KENNEDY roared and swiftly let it out that he has just gotten a new hat and would wear it because he was growing to like it.

The conversation swung to the economy, to unemployment and the President's legislative program. There in the privacy of a presidential conversation, Mr. Goldberg warned that there would be "severe unemployment for a long time."

Allen Rose, certainly one of labor's national policy makers, told the government leaders that he believed it would pay to spend heavily.

"Mr. President, you and the labor secretary," said Rose, "have done such an excellent job in arousing the people to the tragedy of unemployment in our midst that you already have created the very circumstances under which the public now expects formidable action and solutions."

Both Rose and Goldberg are known to be advocates of heavy spending in the billions on government projects—similar to that of the old New Deal days.

AT THIS POINT the President indicated he would have difficulties with Congress. Suddenly the relaxation dropped like the ashes from his cigar. The three men discussed minimum wage and other New Frontier legislation.

The President listened gravely to the two men whose sense of political strategy he respects immensely. Then JFK picked up the phone. He put through a very important call to the "Bill."

But there were other problems for the New Frontier. Labor in New York State, for example, was restless. It had begun to discuss organizing a new political party.

JFK feels, as did FDR, that as the big state goes in virtually each election, so goes the nation. This was discussed.

By 4 o'clock the talk ended, the insecure moments were gone and the chat was flying on the trail of the New Frontier.

Blockade Warranted

By DAVID LAWRENCE

U.S. May Halt Red Arms Aid to Cuba

An air and sea blockade of Cuba may have to be imposed by the United States to prevent the landing of munitions and weapons of war by the Soviet government.

Not only is there evidence now that the Russian government has violated the Monroe Doctrine but that it also has ignored the declaration of the Organization of American States which by resolution affirmed that same doctrine.

The resolution which was adopted at Caracas, Venezuela, in 1954 declares "that the domination or control of the political institutions of any American state by the international Communist movement, extending to this hemisphere the political system of an extra-continental power, would constitute a threat to the sovereignty and political independence of the American states, endangering the peace of America, and would call for a meeting of consultation to consider the adoption of appropriate action in accordance with existing treaties."

Unfortunately, there isn't time to wait for a meeting of the Organization of American States now, and it so happens that only the United States has the air and sea power to thwart the Russian invasion of Cuban territory.

Dispatches in the last 24 hours have revealed that Communist-made MIG jet aircraft as well as Soviet tanks and cannon are actually being used by Castro's army.

There is evidence also that Castro's government has been infiltrated by the Communists. Thus the world is witnessing a brazen attempt by the Soviet government to establish a foothold in Cuba and to extend its military domination to other Central and South American states.

President Kennedy would be following historic American policies in ordering that no further war supplies be permitted to land in Cuba.

It was to thwart the landing of German munitions in Mexico in 1914 that President Wilson ordered the United States Navy to seize the port of Vera Cruz. Also, on Feb. 24, 1960, President Eisenhower, in addressing the Brazilian Congress, said:

"But we would consider it an intervention in the internal affairs of an American state if any power, whether by invasion, coercion or subversion, succeeded in denying freedom of choice to the people of any of our sister republics."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY, in his latest message to Nikita Khrushchev, says:

"I have previously stated and I repeat now that the United States intends no military intervention in Cuba. In the event of any military intervention by outside force, we will immediately honor our obligations under the inter-American system to protect this hemisphere against external aggression."

This is a warning that unless a determination to use military power to prevent any further encroachment on Cuban territory. To effectuate such a decision, it is necessary to cut off the landing of any more military weapons or equipment by the Russians.

The most practical way to do this is to intercept any planes that may be headed for Cuba and to require any ships that may be destined for Cuban ports to be searched if they contain munitions, they would be asked to return to their port of origin.

The United States government believes in the right of every people to choose their own rulers but when, as in the case of the Castro regime, no elections have been held and a dictatorship has assumed power, there can be no difference to the acts of a European government which convives with and in effect controls the local dictatorship.

It also is to be noted that the United States has formally severed diplomatic relations with the Castro government. This means that the Castro regime no longer is recognized as the constituted government of Cuba.

IT MEANS also that the United States regards what is happening in Cuba as a struggle between two factions, one of which has been guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors, not only against the people of Cuba but against the citizens of foreign countries.

For any European government to take sides and send military equipment and officers and pilots from its own or satellite governments to carry on a war against the Cuban people is a cause for deep concern by the American government.

Unless Soviet Premier Khrushchev heeds the warning in the message sent by President Kennedy on Tuesday night of this week, the Kremlin can expect a blockade to be imposed against the ships of all nations which may be suspected of carrying munitions of war or military men to assist in the waging of war against the democratic aspirations of the Cuban people.

So They Say

I thought it was a joke for a while. I thought it was play money. I kept looking for the words "play money" all over the bills. —Shoe store clerk, Ronald Burkard, 26, who found two $10,000 bills on floor of New York Coliseum.

What must future judges think of us (Roman Catholics) if we live in the most exciting age of science ever known to mankind, and philosophize about Aristotle's physics? —Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., president of Notre Dame University.

The American housewife has a constitutional right to be humbugged. If we pass this bill we would be depriving her of a great amount of enjoyment. — Iowa State Rep. John Duffy, opposing bill to restrict use of it a ding stamps.

Matter of Fact

When we look at the stars, we are viewing past history. The nearest star, not counting the sun, is over 25 thousand billion miles away. The light we see today was emitted by that star four years ago. Powerful telescopes show distant stars whose light takes over 100 million years to reach us. We don't know what these stars are like today—some may have died millions of years ago.

No doubt about it, prices have been going up. Postage rates have been no exception. But we still get off cheap. When George Washington signed the first postal act, letters cost 6 cents for the first 30 miles, 8 cents up to 60 miles, 10 cents to 100 miles, and 12 cents from 100 to 150 miles.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm writing about that woman who said she just loves to watch her husband sleep at night because he looks so much like a little boy—and then she added she adores listening to him snore because it's such a comforting sound. That filbert must sleep in the daytime.

I've been married to a heavy snorer for 27 years. I admit that I have turned the light on during the night to look at him but the only thing that comes to my mind is murder. After he's had a few drinks he makes so much noise the people in the next apartment actually have banged on the wall with what must be a hammer.

Two years ago our family doctor suggested three alternatives—wax ear plugs, a mild sedative or separate bedrooms. I am using all three, thank you. — WELL RESTED NOW.

Broadcasters Inc.

Dear Ann: I work for a large company and all the telephone calls go through a switchboard. The three girls who handle the calls have big ears and matching mouths. I know they have listened in on my calls because they have repeated some of the things I have said.

Yesterday my boy friend called and we had a nasty argument about a personal matter. He is hot headed and made some statements I wish he hadn't. When I left the building I ran into one of the operators and she gave me such a wise apple look I could have strangled her.

Shall I report these operators to the boss in an anonymous letter or have it out with them privately? — PRIVACY INVADED.

Dear Invaded: Eavesdropping is a vicious practice but so long as people have two ears it's going to continue.

Anonymous letters are the coward's way out. If you don't wish to sign your name to a letter don't write it.

The best approach is to pretend that everything said on the phone is being broadcast on a loudspeaker system throughout the building. Use the business phone for business only and ask your boy friend to call you at home to discuss personal matters.

Granny's Darling

Dear Ann: With our daughter's birthday just around the corner my problem appears again. This 7-year-old girl is the only grandchild in the family. My husband's mother insists on buying her four or five gifts every time there is the slightest excuse. At Easter Granny gave her five gifts.

I recently discovered that the little schemer has all the gift-getting days marked on the calendar. Special events to her mean loot and nothing more. Last Christmas she received 10 gifts from Granny and then said, "Is that ALL?"

I hate to interfere with my mother-in-law's pleasure but I'm afraid she's ruining our child. — ADVICE NEEDED.

Dear Needed: Tell Granny from now on ONE gift per occasion is the limit and the rest will be sent to a children's home. Make it stick. It's your responsibility to see that the child grows up with a decent set of values.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

He's Married If --

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—You can bet a man is probably married if—

His wallet bulges with family photos instead of money.

He breaks into hollow laughter whenever someone asks, "Anybody here got change for a $5 bill?"

The same woman gives him lunch money every day. Or, if the briefcase he carries to work in the morning contains a sandwich and a piece of cake.

He has a guilty look if a pretty blonde stops him on the sidewalk to ask a direction.

In a supermarket he puts into his shopping cart a package of detergent, six cans of dog food, 12 boxes of breakfast cereals and a packet of bird seed.

Every year or so he goes around with a haunted expression asking "Do you know anyone who would like to give a nice home to anywhere from one to six kittens that don't even have their eyes open yet?"

He gets periodical phone calls at the office in which his only part of the conversation consists of "Yes," "Uh huh," "Well, if you say so," and "Okay, dear."

Buying a new lawnmower interests him more than spending a day at a racetrack.

He laughs loudest whenever anyone tells a mother-in-law joke.

On rainy days he always wears rubbers or carries an umbrella in winter he is always bundled up—as if by someone who didn't want to lose him.

He never gets a letter that smells of perfume, and if he did it would scare him half to death.

He can rarely discuss a new first run movie being shown at a downtown theater, but he is an authority on all the old films that inhabit television.

He always asks to have his vacations when school is out.

Pausing before the window of a travel agency, he looks yearningly at the posters of the places farthest from where he lives—preferably those showing life in Tahiti.

He shines his own shoes and, as often as not, they look like they need a shine.

The personal drawer in his office desk contains aspirin, a bottle of soda mint tablets, some unpaid bills.

He never opens his check on payday. He simply puts it in his mouth and heads for home.

By these signs you can tell him—the happy married man, backbone of civilization.

Pleasant Valley

Pleasant Valley Grange will sponsor a benefit card party and a "country store" tonight at 8 in the grange hall. Eucher and "500" will be played.

The grangers presented a program recently at the County Home. The lecturer, Agnes Clark, was in charge. Members of the Franklin Junior 4-H'ers Club Band entertained with musical numbers. Readings and a talk by Rev. Boy Burd also were featured on the program. Cookies and ice cream were provided by the grange for the residents at the Home.

Those from Pleasant Valley Grange who attended the recent district contest at Canfield are Mr. and Mrs. Gene Snyder, Mrs. Clark and daughter, Patty, Mrs. Dorothy Finnicum and daughter, Hazel.

MERGER IS APPROVED

CLEVELAND (AP)—Directors of Diamond Alkali Co. announced at the company's annual meeting Thursday that they have approved "in principle" an agreement to merge with Bessemer Limestone & Cement Co. of Youngstown. Raymond F. Evans, Diamond Alkali board chairman and president, said approval of stockholders will be sought soon.

Evans reported company earnings for the first quarter of 1961 declined to $2,097,000, or 69 cents a share, from $2,868,000, or 96 cents a share a year ago. Net sales dropped to $31,299,000 from $32,992,000.

2 Youths Sentenced To Reformatory

LISBON — Two Columbiana County youths were sentenced Thursday afternoon to the Mansfield Reformatory after they pleaded guilty to two breakings and enterings and asked for immediate sentence.

Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond S. Buzzard sentenced Kenneth Lee Powell, 21, of East Liverpool RD 2 and Charles Lee Howard, 20, of Hanover RD 1, who admitted entering Hogue's Restaurant near East Liverpool and the Potter's Lumber Co. in Calcutta earlier this month, to 1-15 years on two counts. Judge Buzzard said they could serve the sentences concurrently.

Approximately $40 and cigarettes and cigars were taken from Hogue's and about $4 from the pop machine at Potters. The two had given authorities the slip during two all-night hunts but were picked up while hitchhiking near Marietta by Deputy Herman Wellman who spotted them as he was en route to Marietta to pick up a defendant for Juvenile Court.

Born Aug. 24, 1870, in Unity Township, she was the daughter of Jacob and Catharine Wilhelm Strohecker. On Dec. 22, 1893, she married Aaron C. Harmon, who died in 1943. She was a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Survivors include two sons, Milton C., with whom she made her home, J. Gaylord of Enon Valley, Pa.; seven grandchildren; 10 great-grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Burt of Petersburg and Mrs. Clara Hazen of Youngstown.

Friends may call at the funeral home this evening.

Laos

Laotian government made up of all political factions.

Britain's cease-fire proposal, approved by the United States, calls for the Indian-Canadian-Polish truce commission set up by the 1954 Indochina peace conference to police the cease-fire. Foreign office sources said the chief stumbling block remaining was a Soviet insistence on the right to approve or veto should the commission find the truce had been broken.

The sources said Britain and the Soviet Union were agreed, once the cease-fire details were worked out, that a 14-nation conference would be convened in Geneva May 5 to chart Laos' future as a unified, independent and neutral nation.

Roberts talked with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko at a Kremlin party Thursday night and told newsmen that agreement "seems very near."

The 300 American officers training Boun Oum's army meanwhile doffed their civilian clothes and put on uniforms in preparation for advisory duty in the front lines in Laos. The U. S. government ordered such open military participation—rather than the previous ostensible civilian training role—in hopes that the presence of Americans in the combat zone would spur the flagging royal army to fight with determination.

County Road Bids Scheduled May 4

Bids for the summer road program will be opened May 4 in the county commissioners' office, it was decided Thursday at the commissioners' meeting in the Courthouse.

Bids will be sought for 733,998 gallons of tar and 4,575 tons of slag. County Engineer Charles Snyder estimated the total cost at $151,177.

The commissioners purchased 5,000 forms for the tuberculosis clinic from Tom Moore of Salem on his low bid of $98. There were two other bids.

Fifty thousand certificates of titles for the clerk of courts office were bought from the Columbus Blank Book Co. in its low bid of $1,550. There were two other bids.

Slag grants of $300 each were made to Center and Wayne Townships.

United School PTA Will Hear Concert

Officers will be installed when the United School Parent-Teacher Association meets this evening at 8 in the high school auditorium.

Miss Jane Goddard, vocal music instructor, will present the annual spring music program for grades one through eight. An art exhibit will be held by students of Miss Barbara Thomas, art instructor.

With The Patients

Mrs. William Rutter of Westville Lake has returned home from Alliance City Hospital, where she underwent surgical treatment.

Scouters to Get Service Awards May 2

county Scioto-Sandusky Conservancy District to dispose of about $300,000 contributed by taxpayers in 15 of the 17 counties.

Senate amendments in the much debated measure to give local governments an extra $15 million a year for street and highway purposes will be considered by the House early next week. Approval of Senate changes would send the measure to the desk of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Republican legislators appear confident they can override his expected veto.

Late in the day, the governor signed three acts sent to his desk by the GOP-controlled legislature: One permits Mahoning and Trumbull counties to help pay for a reservoir project on the west branch of the Mahoning River in Portage County. Both counties already had voted bond issues to cover their $5.2 million share in the project.

Another permits the filing of death certificates in districts other than the one in which the death of an Ohioan occurs.

The third permits domestic insurance companies, other than life insurance companies, to invest surplus and accumulated funds in bonds or notes issued by state institutions of higher education for construction of dormitories or dining halls.

Three Weeks Too Long To Live With Goat

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—"I'll sit in jail but I'm not living with a billy goat," said Thomas Young in County Court.

Despite the defiant statement, Young, 37, of nearby Goshen, won dismissal of a charge of pointing a pistol at his wife, Elizabeth.

Young conceded it was the same pistol he had just used to kill her billy goat in the living room of their home, but said:

"I got tired of living with it." Judge Chris Rosenhoffer ruled there was insufficient evidence Young pointed the weapon intentionally at his wife, even though Young had said after shooting the animal it should have been his wife.

Mrs. Young contended it was only a three-week-old goat, but Young said three weeks was too long to live with any goat.

Cuba

that the Soviet Union, Red China and Communist Czechoslovakia were actively aiding Fidel Castro's forces.

Denying claims by the Cuban government that not a single invader made it into the interior, the insurgent broadcast said the "army of liberation" is firmly entrenched in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba and is ready to fight on victory.

Then the broadcast added: In support of its claim that the invasion was the work of "Yankee mercenaries," Havana radio said prisoners told of being flown from the United States to a camp in Guatemala. They were quoted as saying they were trained there by 25 instructors from "the Yankee army."

The Havana broadcast said the prisoners reported they were flown to Puerto Cabezas in Nicaragua where they boarded the "North American military transports."

Guatemala and Nicaragua have denied officially they had anything to do with the operation. Havana said all captured weapons were "North American arms," including tanks, machine gun rifles, antitank guns, rocket launchers, flame throwers and trucks.

The rebel invaders earlier had charged they were met on the beaches by Soviet-made tanks and were attacked by Soviet-made MIG jets.

Havana radio asserted Prime Minister Fidel Castro personally led the fight against the invaders. His absence from Cuban airwaves has led to speculation he may have been in incapacitated or shunted aside by the Communists.

The Caribbean island was reported still tense and swept by fears and rumors that dampened victory celebrations by supporters of the Castro regime.

The government radio said that Castro, who has not appeared on broadcasts since the landings Monday, would make an appearance at a giant celebration on May 1.

The Castro regime claimed that the only survivors of the invasion surrendered Thursday after being trapped in the south coast swamps. The government said they would be shown on TV tonight.

The rebel radio Swan claimed that the anti-Castro ranks were swelling with large numbers of "teachers, students, workers, peasants and housewives" joining the guerrillas in the mountains. Predictions of more battles in the Caribbean's "unhappy island"—in the words of President Kennedy—came from both pro-Castro and anti-Castro camps.

Wellsville Driver Hurt In Accident

A 73-year old Wellsville man is in fair condition in East Liverpool City Hospital today with injuries suffered in a one-car traffic mishap on a township road one-quarter of a mile east of Rt. 45 north of Wellsville, at 7:15 p.m. Thursday.

Injured was the driver, Thomas B. Kelley, with a possible fracture of the pelvis, fractured ribs and lacerations of the forehead and chin.

Highway patrolmen said Kelley's eastbound car went into a ditch on the right side of the road and then back across the roadway into an embankment on the left side.

4 Drivers Arraigned Before Judge Arfman

Fined were Dale A. Bennett of RD 5, Salem, reckless operation, $5 and costs, and Robert L. Mumpire of Columbiana, leaving the scene of an accident, $100 and costs and three days in jail, and failure to stop in an assured clear distance, $10 and costs.

Forfeiting bonds were Virgil Burson of 1460 E. 11th St., Salem, speeding, $15, and William G. Adams of East Palestine, reckless operation, $25.

Tuscarawas County, Ohio, is called the "world's clay center" because of its concentration of clay and brick factories.

Two Penalized for Liquor Violations

LISBON — Two district men were fined and given jail sentences at a hearing Thursday afternoon in County Judge Herbert A. Arfman's court in East Palestine.

Robert Fraser, 32, of Wellsville RD 1, employee at the Bar-X-Ranch, northwest of East Liverpool on the Y & O Road, was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in the county jail for selling intoxicating beverages to a minor. Judge Arfman suspended $100 of the fine and the entire jail sentence.

Ralph Newtz, 32, of East Liverpool was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to 10 days in jail for buying intoxicants for minors.

Both pleaded not guilty at the hearing Thursday but were found guilty by the court. Charges were filed by Joseph Major, and Ohio Liquor Control Board enforcement officer who was in the tavern when the liquor was purchased.

Newtz and Homer Williams, 21, of Chester, also have contributing charges pending against them in Juvenile Court. The hearing was to be held at 1 p.m. today. The two juvenile girls involved will also have a hearing before Judge Tobin.

JFK

news secretary Pierre Salinger said that in critical times it is customary for the President to talk with opposition leaders. That particularly includes members of Congress, Salinger said.

The White House also disclosed that on Wednesday afternoon the President had held a secret meeting with the chairman, Jose Miro Cardona, and five members of the Cuban Revolutionary Committee. Miro Cardona asked the President, Salinger reported, to use his influence with the Organization of American States to prevent the execution of men captured by Castro forces in this week's rebel invasion of Cuba.

Kennedy virtually conceded in his speech to the editors that the invasion, which had the moral support of the U. S. government, had proved a severe disappointment to officials here. He said the news from Cuba has grown worse instead of better. He also said that if the United States ever had to intervene directly it would not "expect or accept the same outcome which this small band of gallant Cuban refugees must have known they were chasing." Drawing some "useful lessons" from what he called "this sobering episode," Kennedy warned against underestimating Communist forces in Cuba or anywhere else in the world.

Obviously directing his words to other American nations, he said it is their security which is in peril.

Then going beyond Cuba Kennedy said "it is clearer than ever that we face a relentless struggle in every corner of the globe." This struggle, he added, uses military power not for direct action but as a shield behind which to employ "subversion, infiltration and a host of other tactics" for the conquest of vulnerable areas.

Officials said that they were sure U. S. ambassadors abroad would call the President's speech to the attention of high authorities in Allied governments. They also expected the implicit warning of an increasingly tougher U. S. policy to be noted—and perhaps carefully considered—by Soviet leaders in Moscow.

For the time being administration informants were not sure what precise steps would be taken to follow up the "alert" as one authority put it, which Kennedy had sounded in his address.

House

House, which originally passed a much less comprehensive bill than the Senate.

The bill setting up a program of temporary benefits to needy children with unemployed parents does not appear to be controversial and also may go to the White House next week.

The Social Security bill passed Thursday by the House has wide Senate support and seems certain to win eventual approval there.

This measure would let men retire at 62 under Social Security, increase widows' benefits, make about 160,000 additional persons eligible for payments, and raise the minimum benefit from $33 to $40 a month. It would be financed by a 1/2 of 1 per cent tax increase on employer and employee effective Jan. 1.

Eichmann

Wannsee conference in Berlin January 20, 1942, when Reinhard Heydrich, one of Eichmann's immediate superiors, told those present that Adolf Hitler had ordered "the final solution of the Jewish question"—and that this meant extermination.

Capt. Avner Less of the Israeli police questioned Eichmann about the conference and this exchange was recorded:

Less: "What does this mean here, 'These Jews must be treated appropriately'?"

Eichmann: "That is—that is this is from (security chief Heinrich) Himmler. 'Natural selection'—'choice made by nature'—that was one of his favorite terms. He liked to use these words."

Less: "Yes, but what does it mean?"

Eichmann: "Killed, killed, certainly."

Heydrich was quoted as telling the group at Wannsee:

"The remnant (of Jews) able finally to survive all this must be given treatment accordingly, because these people, representing a natural selection, are to be regarded as the germ cell of a Jewish rehabilitation should they be allowed to go free."

Eichmann said he attended this conference. But he represented himself as little more than a glorified secretary. He said he was ordered to issue the invitations to "higher officials." And he said he did not even speak at the conference.

Less asked then, after drawing out the meaning of "appropriate treatment," whether Eichmann's department was not among those to be advised about the order.

Quoting from a document, Less said, "all foreign office officials concerned should contact the competent department head of the security police. Does this refer to you?"

Eichmann, who has been disclaiming responsibility for the Nazi acts wherever possible conceded:

"That would refer to me. Yes, that would have been me." Less pointed out during the questioning that the Nazi plan envisioned the eventual extermination of all Jews. He used the words "your plan" in this passage.

"Not my plan," Eichmann quickly responded. "I had nothing to do with this plan, captain." "But you were involved with the plan." "Yes," Eichmann said. "I am guilty of complicity, of course. I am guilty as an accomplice for assisting in this plan. In legal terms, I am guilty as an accomplice. I cannot absolve myself from that nor make excuses."

Kruger National Park, South Africa, was established in 1898 to preserve vanishing wildlife.

Leetonia Trips Greenford For 2nd Meet Win In Row

Bears Capture 10 First Places Victors Are Paced By Gullett, Smith

The Leetonia Bears high school track team won their second meet in a row in this early season with a 77-23-31 1-3 decision over Greenford Thursday afternoon at Leetonia.

Capturing firsts in 10 of 13 events in the meet, the Leetonia thinclads completely dominated their opponents on a track that was still somewhat slow due to previous rains.

A first place win in the high jump by Russell Lehman of Leetonia, who heaved his frame over the bar 5 feet 10 inches, proved that the Bears are loaded with talent in this event. It was only Wednesday that Eric Painter of Leetonia won the same event with a jump of 5-9 against Jackson-Milton. Painter, who bruised his hip in the winning jump Wednesday, was tied for third in the event yesterday with T. Davis of Greenford and Burgess of Leetonia. Wellendorf of Greenford was second.

Bob Gullett and Rickey Smith were the standouts for the Bears. Gullett took a first in the 180 low hurdles with a time of 23.9, and was anchor man in the winning half mile relay team which ran the event in 1:40.1. He also took second place in the broad jump won by teammate Ed Rowedda with a jump of 16.9 feet.

Smith, in winning the 100 yard dash, improved his Wednesday performance substantially by trimming two-tenths of a second off the earlier win to cop the race in 11 seconds flat. He was also on the winning half mile relay team with Gullett, Rowedda and Al Vignon.

Greenford's Bobcats managed wins in the 120-yard high hurdles, the 220-yard dash, and the mile relay.

There was no event in the pole vault because Greenford was unable to field a vaulter and because of wet pit conditions.

In winning the mile run, Schnepp of Leetonia trimmed almost six seconds off the performance of runners in the event Wednesday. He ran the grueling race in 5:10.7 yesterday afternoon. Boyer of Leetonia was second and Stanaker of Greenford third.

The Bears will play host to the Canfield tracksters Tuesday, beginning at 4:15 p.m. The Canfield thinclads are rumored to be loaded with talent and the meet should prove a real test for Coach Ike Farrah's Bears.

Braves Shade Phillies 7-6; Cards, Giants, Cubs Winners

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Charlie Dressen has a tendency to pop off but even his detractors admit he usually knows what he's talking about.

The outspoken Milwaukee manager has maintained all his Braves need to win the pennant is a strong bullpen. He blames last year's failure to win the flag on the flop of relief pitcher Don McMahon.

Dressen's claim received strong support Thursday night when the Braves overcame a 6-1 deficit with five runs in the ninth inning and one in the 11th to nip the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6.

After starter Lew Burdette was rocked for 10 hits in 4-2-3 innings, the Phillies got just six hits. Ron Piche picked up the victory.

St. Louis and San Francisco climbed into a three-way tie with Pittsburgh for second place, one half game behind the National League leading Cincinnati Reds.

The Cards thumped the Los Angeles Dodgers 11-2 and the Giants whipped the Reds 2-1. Chicago's Cubs shut out the Pirates 3-0.

Pinch hitter Mel Roach's three-run homer and Frank Bolling's two-run double produced the tying rally for the Braves in the ninth. Two innings later, Roy McMillan, hit by a pitched ball by Johnny Buzhardt, scored the winning run on a single by reserve catcher Charlie Lau.

Right-handed Glen Hobbie won his first game of the season for the Cubs with a six-hit shutout over the Pirates. He struck out seven and walked one.

Mike McCormick won a south-paw hurling duel from Jim O'Toole permitting only four hits for his second Giant victory. Until he gave up a run in the ninth, he had hurled 17 straight scoreless innings.

The Cards pounded Dodger starter Stan Williams and his inept relievers for 17 hits including a pair of home runs by Daryl Spencer and another by Ken Boyer.

St. Louis second baseman Julian Javier had four hits. Curt Simmons, with the help of Bobby Miller, won his first game of the season.

Hot Stove Program Location Changed

Because of the possibility of rainy weather, the Hot Stove League physical fitness program and Class H tryouts will be held at the Hi Neighbor Dance Hall on the Pidgeon Road Saturday at 10 a.m. instead of on the diamonds as scheduled, John Herman Jr., president of the Hot Stove League, said today.

All boys who played in the morning leagues last year are requested to turn out Saturday for Class H tryouts. Class H managers also are requested to be on hand for drawings.

A training film will be shown at 11 a.m., Herman said.

American Legion team tryouts will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. at Centennial Park. In case of bad weather, the tryouts will be held at the American Legion Home. The latter league is for boys aged 16 to 18.

Yanks Win Pair From Angels

White Sox Hand Senators 6-1 Loss

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Yankees, led by Mickey Mantle, swept a double-header from the Los Angeles Angels 7-5 and 4-2 Thursday and surged into a second place tie the American League leading Minnesota Twins.

The victories were the third and fourth in succession for the defending champions after they had lost their season's opener to the Twins. The Tigers also improved their record to four victories in five games, pounding out an 11-4 decision over the Cleveland Indians.

Early Wynn won his first game of the season and the 285th of his career as the Chicago White Sox defeated the Washington Senators 6-1. The other AL clubs were not scheduled.

Wynn received solid home run support from his White Sox mates. Among the 11 hits off loser Hal Woodeshick and two relievers were four-baggers by Roy Sievers, Jim Landis and Al Smith. Early was tagged for nine hits.

Mickey Mantle was nearly the entire show in Yankee Stadium where the defending champions increased their victory string to four. The slugging center fielder drove in five runs in the Yankees' opener, hitting his second and third home runs of the season.

Right-handers Art Ditmar and Bob Turley were the winning pitchers but both needed late inning help. Turley walked nine in 7-2-3 innings of the nightcap before giving way to Luis Arroyo. Eli Grba and Ned Garver were the losers. Former Yankee utility outfielder Ken Hunt hit two doubles, a triple and a homer for the Angels, who lost the services of third baseman Eddie Yost with a hairline fracture of the middle finger.

The Tigers jumped on Cleveland's Gary Bell for four runs in the first inning, featured by Rocky Colavito's double, and added three more in the fifth on Norm Cash's home run with two on. Frank Lary pitched his second victory while Bell went down to his second defeat.

Kirkland Pulls Leg Muscle

Tigers Win Second Over Indians 11-4

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Walter

Bond, standing in the wings since the baseball season opened, may join the cast today as the Cleveland Indians try to change their losing role.

The towering fellow, who dazzled the opposition with his hitting in two spring training seasons, is slated to replace right fielder Willie Kirkland, who pulled a thigh muscle in the Stadium opener Wednesday.

"This cold weather doesn't help those things," explained Cleveland manager Jimmie Dykes, after the Tribe lost to Detroit 11-4 Thursday for a few days now than have the injury aggravated and bother him all season."

Aside from Kirkland's leg and a slight sag in the team's spirit from two straight losses to the Tigers, the Indians appear ready physically for their three-game series with Kansas City.

Until the fifth inning Thursday, it was a close contest. After Detroit got off to a four-run lead in the first inning, the Indians fought back to trail 4-3. Then, in the fifth, the Tigers pushed across three more runs and had it made thereafter.

In the first inning, the Indians' Gary Bell walked Billy Bruton, who then stole second. Rocky Colavito's double brought him home. A walk to Norm Cash and rookie Steve Boros' bloop single was good for another run. Boros scored on alert running behind Cash when Johnny Temple tossed the ball to second base after fielding Dick Brown's pop fly single.

Bell then settled down and didn't allow a hit through the next three innings.

Cleveland chalked up three runs in the fourth. A walk to Temple and singles by Tito Francona and Kirkland produced one run. A passed ball and Vic Power's single brought in two more.

The roof fell in on Bell in the fifth after two were out.

Bubba Phillips bobbled Al Kaline's grounder, Colavito singled, then Cash blasted a home run to make it 7-3.

Detroit scored once in the seventh and three times in the eighth. Barry Latman hit Boros with a pitch in the seventh inning with the bases full for one run and Russ Heman hit Boros in the eighth, again with the bases loaded.

Jim Grant was slated to pitch today against Kansas City's Ray Herbert. Both have 1-0 records.

AVOID TROUBLE

One trick I learned by watching stars is that they almost always drive from the side of the tee nearest the trouble zone.

This usually is out-of-bounds.

LEARN TO READ the green.

That way, they shoot away from trouble, rather than into it. This increases their chances of staying out of trouble by a small margin. The practice may save you quite a few strokes in the course of a year.

Learn to read greens to determine the grain on approach shots and putts. Almost invariably a shiny green surface indicates that the ball will be going with the grain. A dull surface indicates you are going against the grain and must hit the ball harder to be up.

Prevailing wind conditions have a great deal to do with the way a green runs.

In almost every case, the grain goes with the wind.

Sharon Speedway To Open April 30

Promoter Jim Novak announced today that Sharon Speedway at Hartford will open the 1961 outdoor stock car racing season on Sunday night, April 30.

The Sharon Speedway will continue its policy of having two feature events, one for the super-modified stock cars and a second for the straight stock cars.

Novak said the limitation on motors will be the same as last season. The straight stocks will be limited to one carburetor. Open competition, a policy inaugurated at Sharon Speedway several years ago, will again be followed. This means that the races are open to all cars and drivers regardless of association affiliation.

The race programs will begin at 8 p.m., and the time trials will start at 6:30. Gates to the speedway will open at 6 p.m.

Bloom Drugs Also Advances In Invitational

Collegians, Pissanello's Win Contests

Both the Lee Stockton's Collegians and Pissanello's Pizza grabbed wins in quarter-final play of the Salem Invitational Basketball Tournament Thursday night in the Memorial Building. Bloom Drugs also won last night to move into a quarter-final game with Bleep Coombs tonight.

In three game action last night Bloom Drugs trimmed the New Brighton Bears 82-77. Lee Stockton's Collegians, the tourney favorites, dumped American Billiards 82-71, and Pissanello's Pizza trounced Gosney Insurance, 87-62.

The Bloom Drug quintet of Canton had little trouble with the New Brighton Bears as they moved out to an early 24-15 lead at the end of the initial quarter and were never headed. The winners went on to post a 48-35 margin at halftime and increased the lead to 65-51 ending three periods.

GENE MASTIN LED his Canton teammates with 22 tallies, while Don Williams with 19 and Verlyn Witte with 12 were also in double figures. Pete Croud and Jim Jackson dumped in 19 markers for the losers, with Paul White getting 17 and Harold Bentley 14.

The tall and talented Lee Stockton's Collegians, also of Canton, rambled over East Liverpool's American Billiards five by posting a big 30-16 first period lead and then continued the same pace to lead 47-35 at halftime and 61-51 at the close of three periods.

Four players were in double figures for the winners, with Don Sift leading the way with 20 points, followed by Jerry Wolfe with 19, Gus Johnson 16 and George Swyers 14. Miles Witchee dumped in 10 field goals to tally 20 markers for the losers, while teammates Frank Jackson and Paul James garnered 14 points apiece.

IN THE THIRD FRAY last night, the Columbiana Gosney Insurance team outclassed Pissanello's Pizza of Alliance in the first stanza by posting a 17-15, but a cold second quarter moved the Alliance team into the lead to stay 36-31 at halftime. The winners really poured it on in the third period to move out to a 63-44 lead.

Tom Shaffer of Pissanello's was high point getter in the game and for the night with 11 fielders and three fouls for 25 points. Also scoring high in the well-rounded Alliance attack were Dave Brubaker with 16, Mike Bavola 13, and Steve Ports 10. George Ramsey led Gosney's with 22 points, while teammate Bob Adams garnered 11. Bob Theiss, former Salem High and Western Reserve University cage star, was held to only eight points, and Len Batcha, head cage coach at Leetonia High School, meshed only six tallies.

Results of last night's action will make tonight's and Saturday night's tourney action shape up like this:

Over 30,000 Expected to See Twins In Home Opener Today

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The Minnesota Twins set out today to show the home folks the brand of tight pitching and lusty hitting that put them in first place in time for the local curtain raiser.

The Twins met the "new" Washington Senators, a team that took over the Twins' old stomping grounds when Cal Griffith moved his boys west to the tune of tinkling cash registers and a huge burst of enthusiasm.

The ticket box was just about empty before the 1:30 p.m. start, with just over 30,000 expected when an untested right-hander named Elmer L. Andersen fired out the first pitch.

He's on hand in the governor's office at the Capitol in the off season.

With that, some hand-picking, introduction of notables and other preliminaries out of the way, a pair of better-known right-handers toed the rubber for the real thing.

Camilo Pascual, who throws curves batters sometimes describe as "snakes," made his second start for the Twins. He bested Baltimore on a five-hitter earlier.

For the Senators, Joe McClain (1-0) also made his second start after a winning debut.

The Twins were feted from one side of the Twin Cities to the other Thursday, breakfasting in St. Paul and lunching in Minneapolis to the accolades of dignitaries and just plain fans.

The weather bureau looked for clearing skies and temperatures in the 50s by gametime.

The same teams meet Saturday and Sunday in single games before the Twins move on to Kansas City.

The Twins (5-1) led second place Detroit by a half game going into today's contest.

New Cars to Duel

5 Events Carded at Canfield Inaugural Saturday Night

At least 30 new cars will be on hand at Canfield Speedway for the 1961 inaugural stock car racing program Saturday night. There will be five events on the program, which will include a 100-lap duel.

Only the fastest 26 cars will qualify for the 100-lap feature over the quarter-mile course. With the weather clearing during the past two days, the track is shaping up fine and Manager Charlie Findlay says the track will be lighting fast by Saturday night.

The top MARC stars will be in from the Midwest and they are also anxious to get the 1961 campaign under way.

JACK FARRIS of New Paris, who has always found the Canfield oval to his liking, will rate as one of the favorites. Farris, the 1959 Memorial Day victor, will be behind the wheel of a 1960 Ford.

Dave Hirshfield, the high-flying Chicagoan, is entered in a 1961

Ford. This will be one of the three 1961 Fords in the field. Others will be driven by Iggy Katona, the three-time MARC national champ from Lambertsburg, Mich. and Bob Sandman, former Pittsburgh star, now racing out of Chicago.

A brand new Chrysler will be in action for the first time in several years at Canfield. Virgil Barbee of Toledo, another veteran to Canfield fans, will have the speedy GM product.

DARRELL DAKE of Cedar Rapids, Clyde Parker of Detroit and Harold Smith of Dayton will be driving 1961 Chevrolets.

These are just a few of the many outstanding drivers, which also include Tom Drew of Toledo, Homer Newland of Detroit, Dick Freeman of Dayton, Dudley Sawyer of Cincinnati, Bow Bowery and Paul Parks of Columbus and many others.

Gates open Saturday night at 6:30 p.m. Time trials begin at 7 and first race at 8:30 p.m.

Australian Takes Lead In Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Arnold Palmer does not think his famous double bogey that caused him to lose his Masters title to Gary Player will hurt him in the future.

"That just happens," Palmer said today as he started the second round of the $40,000 Houston golf classic.

Palmer shot a 68 Thursday in the first round of the Classic. Australia's Peter Thomson took the first round lead with a 5-under par 65 and Masters titlist Gary Player carded a 72.

Palmer said a golfer must take such things philosophically.

"You have to expect those things," he said. "I don't think it will hurt my game in other tournaments because what happened in Augusta is behind me now and I have to think of the future. Now I'm trying to work on my game and get a few tournaments under my belt. That will help me more than anything else."

Palmer won more than $75,000 last year. Player now leads him in 1961 earnings, $45,217.50 to $34,042.83.

Su Mac Lad Wins Fourth Race In Row

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Su Mac Lad of the United States is the world champion trotter as of today, but supporters of Italy's Tornese say wait until next week.

Su Mac Lad, a $35,000 bargain purchase in Chicago two years ago, won his fourth race in four 1961 starts Thursday night when he romped home half a length ahead of Tie Silk, from Canada.

Tornese finished third in a field of eight invited to compete in the $50,000 United Nations mile and one-half trot at Yonkers Raceway.

There was an incident as the horses went into the backstretch for the final half mile. Masina, the French mare making her first start in the United States, bore over and the sulky wheels locked with the Italian horse's bike.

Su Mac Lad, who had taken the lead after the first half mile, had only one real challenger after that—Tie Silk. Masina never recovered, and finished last, but Tornese rallied quickly and got third.

The final race of the international series is the $50,000 National Championship Trot next Thursday night.

Su Mac Lad was timed in 3:10 4-5, and paid $5.40 as the favorite of a crowd of 30,029. He earned $25,800, and boosted his 1961 total to $82,800 and his career bankroll to $234,740.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—A school bus driver, Senna Shofner, 37, was injured slightly when a truck hit the rear of the bus Thursday. None of the passengers, 43 students from Northridge School, was hurt.

The Highway Patrol said a tractor-trailer truck driven by Fred Wallace of Arcanum hit the bus after it stopped on a county road north of here to discharge passengers.
